

ABSTRACT

This research has pedagogical nature of possible documentary style, which allowed us to help improve the quality of educational process in the adjustment period the first year of basic education through the implementation of surveys for teachers and ancillary nursery, as well as detrimental impact of the efficiency and effectiveness of the socialization of the road map of activities in the period of adaptation to preschool children in schools "and Gonzalo Andrade Proaño Medardo Zaldumbide" Town of Ibarra. Of the surveys was obtained horn result that a high percentage of teachers and assistants kindergarten, argue that there is a document issued by the Provincial Directorate of Education of Imbabura. Probably because of ignorance or failure to clear interest of the authorities. Consequently, this affects the efficiency of development and growth in the period of adaptation of children of preschool age. Therefore, we propose a general guide of activities for each institution to analyze, apply and modify according to their institutional reality.
