

SUMMARY

The present investigation it there realized in the rural little schools of the parish on July 6 of Cuellaje canton Cotacachi Imbabura's province in which one proceeded to formulate the problem by means of you poll so much teachers and students relating to the ignorance of the graphical organizers in the area of Natural Sciences the teachers and the students of this sector in his great majority were not knowing largely these strategies during his daily classes, for the same one we have planned ours general as specific aims that they carried to the development of the present investigation basing on philosophical foundations, Epistemológicos and also paradigms related to the psychological and pedagogic aspects taking as base to stimulate ourselves to an identical education to the current reality, entering the origin, types and application of the graphical organizers to have more clarity and to be able to execute this offer taking in it counts also the methodology of the investigation for the compilation and analysis of information, allowing to extract the due conclusions and recommendations on this work of a coherent and concrete form in benefit of teachers and students Admitting in turn developing the offer the same one that I lead to us to applying each of the strategies in agreement to each of the realities, achieving in the students a significant learning. For it it is important and fundamental in the process And To the application and existing utilization of the strategies allowing to improve the learning inside an educational community.