

SUMMARY

This study navigation run it after to observe the problem of the absence of the practice of ethics at all levels who formed the society, has been focus on the student population of the Col. "Carlos María de la Torre" of the parish of the Quinche. Study, aims to improve the student interrelationship within the educational community, to reaffirm the institutional image in the sector, and why not in the northeastern part of the Pichincha province. Faced with this reality is essential to address the conflict directly, the authors of this research we aim to provide ideas and suggestions, to give solutions to students and teachers to put into practice the axiology and run with the student population to improve collective and interpersonal relations. THE first chapter refers to the approach to the problem that arises from the need of a lack of knowledge and practice of ethics in the student population, we have raised objectives that may be to resolve them. The second chapter corresponds to the theoretical framework that refers to the different positions: psychological, sociological, technological, theological, and epistemological, also contains recognized authors who give us alternatives for better implementation and practice of ethical theories. The third chapter speaks methodology tools and techniques of research, which allowed the information for examination. The fourth chapter is the analysis and interpretation of results. Fifth chapter raises the General conclusions and recommendations of the research work. Chapter 6 discusses the alternative proposal with the respective justification and significance, objectives, impacts. Finally found the annexes as: photographs, problem tree and forms of research instruments.